Little Interest in School Affairs

The meeting of the ratepayers called for Monday night was attended by only eight. Messrs. Vigar and Trego carried a motion that Mr. E. Griesbach occupy the chair, who upon taking that important position stated that the object of the meeting was to learn the financial condition of affairs, particularly with regard to the town's payment of taxes to the school and to discuss school affairs in general. He said at the last meeting, as a trustee, he had refused to accept Dr. Rose's resignation as secretary-treasurer until the finances were straightened out and everything made plain. He regretted Mr. James and Mr. Ramsbottom were not present as trustees to take part in the meeting. He wanted to know why the annual meeting had not been held and said that the reason he had not complained before was that he wanted to wait until Dr. Rose returned from his eastern trip.

Dr. Rose said he was ready to answer any questions regarding the finances and explain everything he had any connection with. Mr. Griesbach then stated he had heard that Mr. Ostrander, an ex-trustee, had said that the town had kept back $500 from the school board and he called on Mr. Trego to substantiate the report.

Mr. Trego stated that he believed this correct.

Acting secretary Johnston on request showed that the town had paid $1000 in July 1911, $1000 in September 1912 and $2000 in December 1912, which comprised all due to the school.

It was contended the payment for July 1912 was paid before it was due and the one in December 1912 after it was due, which was thought about balanced all interest.

There still being a question in some minds it was explained that the Town Council acted as one individual for the town and that if the town had waited to collect all taxes due by ratepayers the school would still be waiting. In other words the council was obliged by law to pay the school all the taxes due whether the town had collected them or not.

Coming back to Mr. Ostrander's statement Mr. Trego said he had been requested by a number of farmers to probe into the statement and find out if it were correct. Whereupon a letter was read from Mr. Ostrander admitting that last October he had stated to some there was money due the school from the town, but that he had made no such statement to Mr. Griesbach, and in which he severely criticised Mr. Griesbach for bringing up the statement now. This about ended the financial discussion.

The different teachers next came in for considerable discussion, both past and present. Some thought there were too many teachers for number of pupils, while others contended that the number of grades required four if not more teachers. It was shown that for the number of pupils the government grant did not provide for four teachers. The principal and his staff were severely criticized and some contended that by the results of the examinations they should be judged. Others thought differently and said in their opinion the present principal was the best Gleichen ever had, and further pointed out the irregular manner in which the pupils attended school made it most difficult for the teachers to show results.

The financial report published in the CALL was discussed. The school grounds and repairs being the principal subject and it was shown that a fire guard had been plowed around the school and considerable money spent in an effort to improve the heating of the school. In this Mr. Fearman and the Board were rather severely criticised for not supplying a good system of heating. However, the meeting broke up without anything definite being done.

The school inspector's report being read it signified that in his opinion a fourth teacher was not required here, which is to be taken up at the next Board meeting.

Farmers Make Another Statement

(Published by U.F.A. Request)
Editor Call:—The Publicity Committee of the Farmers' Combined Irrigation Committee has been informed that the C. P. R. are now spreading the following letter broadcast amongst farmers in the Irrigation block:

Calgary, Alta., March 3, 1913
Dear Sir:—We are advised by the department of the interior that you have filed complaint with them relative to the classification and have asked for a re-classification by the department officials. In looking into the matter we find that we have never received any specific complaint from you regarding the classification of the irrigable land sold to you and while we have consented to re-classification by the department, I will be very much obliged if you will advise me of the particular points of complaint relative to the classification of your land, and why in view of the action which has been taken by the company in connection with the payments on your land, you have not felt that your complaints with the department should have been filed with us.

Yours very truly,
J. S. DENNIS,
Assistant to the President.

The publicity committee find it their duty to warn all parties interested against the catch contained in this letter and chiefly embodied in the words: "The particular points of complaint relative to the classification of your land."

If farmers at this stage were to state anything specific their interest might be prejudiced before the government engineers take the matter in hand, which the department of the interior has decided to do without the assistance of the C.P.R.

It might also prejudice whatever stand those engineering experts may take, whom the irrigation committees have secured as evidence for the protection of the interests of the farmers.

The publicity committee therefore advises the farmers most seriously to make no statement whatsoever either in writing or verbal to any representative of the C.P.R.

For the benefit of the farmers other papers are requested to print this notice.

Gleichen U. F. A. Support Machinery Act

Although the "Farm Machinery Act" passed the Provincial Legislature on March 12th the members of the Gleichen U.F.A. were not aware of the fact at their meeting on Saturday and passed resolution endorsing the principles contained therein, and, furthermore, instructed the secretary to forward the following petition to Edmonton, a copy of which has been supplied the CALL by Secretary Trego:

Gleichen, March 15th, 1912
To the Honorable Premier and the Legislature of Alberta:

We, the undersigned farmers of Gleichen would respectfully ask that the form of machine contract and machine note be adopted as now being considered by your honorable body, notwithstanding any petitions to the contrary.

The Gleichen Hockey Club has announced the annual masquerade ball for Friday, April 11th, when valuable prizes will be offered for competition.

Arthur Murice of Cluny has disposed of his boarding house and livery business to F. E. Renaud.

E. E. Holland returned last week from a visit to his home near Toronto.

Miss Robertson who has been in charge of the dry goods department of the Gleichen Trading Co. for the last three years left on Monday for Winnipeg, where she will make her future home.

W. Jones returned Friday from a visit to his former home in Brush, Col. "Bill" made a good success farming and threshing last year and is now busy preparing to repeat.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold a public meeting in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, March 25th, beginning at eight o'clock. A program consisting of music, singing and short addresses will be given. Refreshments will be served at the close and a collection will be taken. All are cordially invited to attend.

Tuesday, John Clark, jr., shipped from Gleichen to A. G. Coutts at Vermilion, "King Jeweller", a stallion rising two years old, which he says he defies anyone to beat. This was an exceptionally fine animal and after his trip to town of twelve miles turned the scales at 1625 pounds. This makes eight stallions Mr. Clark has sold since the first of the year, which goes to show he is still holding his own.

Jas. Shouldice spent Tuesday in Gleichen meeting many of his old friends and acquaintances. It will be remembered Mr. Shouldice was a candidate for the Provincial Legislature in opposition to E. H. Riley. It is stated, however, that his visit at this time is not of a political nature, although some of his friends point out that in case redistribution separates this constituency from Calgary he should be the conservative candidate for this riding.

The ball and box social given in the Opera House last Friday evening under the auspices of the Gleichen and District Agricultural Association resulted in a fair financial success as well as proving a most enjoyable affair. The hall was not overcrowded by any means and in fact it is rather surprising that more did not turn out to assist in making so commendable an effort to relieve the finances of the Association. However, the music and all required to make such an affair pleasing to the most exacting was ably supplied by the officers and directors. The sale of boxes was conducted by Mr. T. H. Beach, who succeeded in disposing of all the boxes at an average figure of $4 a box.

As announced last week a dissolution of partnership has recently taken place in town at the "Busy Store", W. J. McCammon retiring, his interest having been purchased by his partner, J. A. Ramsay, who will continue the business. Mr. Ramsay's announcements have already been mailed all over Gleichen and surrounding district and also appear elsewhere in the columns of today's issue. He has made a record in business in Gleichen and is a hustler of a high order. From what we know of him the business at the "Busy Store" is going to keep on the upward move, and the store's many patrons will find their interests fully looked after by Mr. Ramsay. Mr. W. H. McKie will be associated with him in the office management of the business, which means that this important department will be well looked after. We bespeak for the "Busy Store" the hearty support of CALL readers.

BABY'S CARE IS MOTHER'S WORRY

—SCOTT'S EMULSION improves the quality of breast milk—it supplies the material for bone and muscle—if scanty or thin, it makes it rich and abundant.

For bottle babies a few drops of emulsion with every feeding produces marvelous effects—makes new, firm flesh and ruddy health.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is the cream of the purest cod liver oil delicately emulsified into tiny particles resembling maternal milk and each particle is coated with glycerine—no alcohol or stimulant—a wholesome, nourishing, strength-making food.

Mothers everywhere are enthusiastic about Scott's Emulsion.

Insist on getting SCOTT'S.

A Near Thing

Dolan met Clancy. Good morning to ye, Clancy, said Dolan. O! hear that your son Dinny was fined the police, force. No, not exactly, answered Clancy. He hasn't fined them, but he goes along with them a great deal.

Suffragines

Geneva.—The women of Chaux-de-Fonds, Switzerland, who have formed a league to demand the vote, do not like the word suffragettes, and they have substituted suffragines, which they say is more harmonious.

The Reason Why

Dobbins—I say, old fellow, you are getting thin since you retired from business.

Tobbins (ex-coal-dealer)—That's what. You see, I don't weigh as much as I did.

Candidates for the Filch

London.—The committee of the Dumbow Filch of Bacon trials have decided to hold the annual court on August Bank holiday. Already one couple have written asking to be allowed to stand their trial for the matrimonial prize.

Pilgrimage by Motorcycle

London.—Several Irish priests propose making a pilgrimage to Lourdes by motorcycle, says The Motor-Cycle. They intend to land in France, ride to the Pyrenean town and return to the coast via Paris.

At the close of his talk before a Sunday school the bishop invited questions.

A tiny boy with white eager face at once held up his hand. "Please sir, said he, why was Adam never a baby?"

The bishop coughed in doubt as to what answer to give, but a little girl, the eldest of several brothers and sisters, came promptly to his aid.

Please sir, he answered, smartly, there was nobody to nurse him.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ill are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

SOCIALISTS SCORN KAISER

One Calls Him an Amateur Sailor, Unable to Command a Fleet

Berlin, Germany.—The Kaiser's activities as a sailor were bitterly attacked by the Socialists in the Reichstag during the discussion of the naval estimates.

It was proposed by the government that $2,500,000 should be spent on rebuilding the royal yacht Hohenzollern, on the ground that the vessel, which was built in 1890, is now old and not luxurious, fast or safe enough for present purposes.

Herr Ledebour, the socialist, opposed the proposal, declaring that the naval estimates took into consideration only warships and not pleasure yachts for the Kaiser. If the Kaiser as commander-in-chief requires an official vessel, said Herr Ledebour, every battleship has special suites of rooms for that purpose. If the Kaiser wants a private ship let him pay for it himself.

Another Socialist member went further, declaring that the Kaiser was utterly unfit to command any naval maneuver, never having passed any examination or test. He was merely an amateur sailor.

Admiral von Tirpitz, the naval minister, protested warmly against the last speech. He declared that the Kaiser's knowledge of naval matters was complete, as he had often had reason to ascertain personally during the last twenty-five years.

The government's proposal was finally adopted in spite of the Socialist opposition.

Rich Man—Would you love my daughter just as much if she had no money?

Seller—Why, certainly!

Rich man—That is sufficient. I don't want any idiots in my family.

CAN LAUGH AT LIFE'S MINOR ILLS

SINCE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER KIDNEY DISEASE

New Brunswick Woman Tells How She Was Rescued from Ill Health By the Twin Remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Negua, Allain P.O., N.B. (Special).—Mrs. Joseph G. Savoy, a well-known resident of this place, whose ill-health has been a matter of much concern to her friends, is telling of the cure she found for all her troubles in Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"My health is fine now," Mrs. Savoy says, in an interview. "The pains are gone from my side and back, and when I go to bed I can sleep. Before I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I could not eat anything heavy such as meat, but now I can eat practically what I please with no ill effects."

Mrs. Savoy was in a generally run-down condition and her cure came about by using the natural remedies. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured and invigorated her kidneys thus purifying her blood and improving the circulation. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets insured proper digestion of her food, thus furnishing the body with the nutrition required. Women with healthy kidneys and sound digestion can afford to laugh at the minor ills of life.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF AARON'S TOMB

Explorer Covered by the Rifle of an Arab Fanatic While He Did It

London, England.—Lecturing at the Camera Club upon his travels in Egypt and Arabia Julian Grande stated that he succeeded in entering the shrine called Aaron's Tomb on the top of Mount Hor, which is jealously guarded by Mohammedans, and in taking a photograph of the interior, though he was covered by the rifle of an Arab fanatic.

He found there not only some Arabian inscriptions but also certain Hebrew letters which had evidently been cut at a remote date, as for ages no Jews had been permitted to approach the place. He was unable to copy the inscriptions in the brief time available, but he believed that they would yield remarkable information.

Mount Hor, where, according to tradition, Aaron died and was buried, rises sixty miles to the south of the Dead sea to a height of 4780 feet. The shrine on its summit is famous, but has never been examined by a competent archeologist. If the Hebrew inscription is on ancient date, as Mr. Grande suggests, its importance may be great.

The oldest Hebrew that remains is found on the Moabite stone about 850 B.C., now in the Louvre, and in an inscription in the tunnel of the Pool of Siloam, discovered in 1880 at Jerusalem, six lines in length and dating to about 700 B.C.

A Hideous Fix

A—I am in a hideous pickle.

B—How so?

A—I have not got anything to eat, and all I've got to pawn are my false teeth, and if I pawn them and buy something to eat then I can't eat it. I never was in such a hideous fix in all my life.

For Croupy Children Keep 'Nerviline' Handy

It Positively Brings Children Out of Danger and Relieves at Once

A Mother Tells Her Experience

"Bringing up young children has its responsibilities under the best of circumstances," writes Mrs. E. G. Fagan, of Holmes' Corners, "but croupy colds add considerably to the worry. My little family of four all went through the croupy era, but I always had Nerviline on hand and never felt nervous. I just followed the directions, and I can tell you that nothing I know of is surer to cure croupy colds than Nerviline."

"In our home we use Nerviline frequently. For cold in the chest, pleurisy, hoarseness, etc., it is simply wonderful. My husband uses it for rheumatism, and I often employ it for neuralgia and sick headache. Nerviline has so many uses that no mother can afford to be without it."

The large family size bottle, which sells at 50c., is the most economical; trial size, 25c. Your storekeeper or druggist sells Nerviline, which is prepared by The Catarthozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

FLARING COLORS IN DRESS

Remarkable Costumes Turned Out by Paris Dressmakers for Racing Season's Opening

Paris, France.—Autumn presented a most brilliant appearance this week on the occasion of the opening of the Paris racing season. Mannequins were conspicuous by their absence, as the fashionable dressmakers have apparently agreed not to send any for the present in pursuance of their policy of strict secrecy until late in the season.

But the public in general were nevertheless afforded an opportunity of viewing what will be worn this spring by smart women. Never before at such an assembly had colors so startling been seen nor such bewildering contrasts, two, three and even four different shades being worn at the same time.

These daring colors appear to have absolutely superseded the sober blue serge so popular during the last few years. There was not a single costume of the latter color to be seen.

Another feature which will undoubtedly form a keynote of the spring fashions is the exceedingly elaborate skirt, both in cloth and in silk, fully draped from the back and narrowing to almost hobbie-skirt dimensions in the hem. An ingenious and picturesque arrangement of the drapery of the skirt, which is cut up in front almost to the knee in the shape of a reversed V, assures perfect freedom of movement.

Low shoes, mostly of bronze color but in some cases matching the dress and almost invariably with red Morocco heels are worn with the new skirts. As to coats, they are usually of the same color as the skirt, but always a brilliant hue, in shape they are generally short and cut away. Some of the more popular shades seen today are grass green, du Barry red and practically every other shade of red, sky blue and bottle green—the latter being generally seen in velvet—orange, buff and brilliant mauve.

One of the most startling models was that of a coat of extraordinary colored cloth, cut away in front, over a skirt of large check cinnamon taffeta; the skirt revealed very low velvet slippers and embroidered silk stockings. The costume was completed by a collar of brilliant yellow fox fur. Another dress which attracted much attention was of bright orange velvet trimmed with skunk, and with a muff to match. Small hats, generally very simply trimmed with either tiny single quill or lancer plume, appear to be most favored.

The general impression gathered by observers of the first fashionable meeting of the new season is that the spring modes will be calculated to the expense by a well-dressed woman.

Little Joe (reading)—What is a fictitious character, aunty?

Aunty—One that is made up, dear.

Little Joe—Then you are a fictitious character, aren't you, aunty?

She—Now do I know you love me?

He—Why, I can't sleep at nights thinking of you.

She—That proves nothing. Pa can't sleep at nights thinking of you; but I hardly think it is love.

Only the uninformed endure the agony of corns. The knowing ones apply Holloway's Corn Cure and get relief.

Well Named

What's that you call your mule?

I call him Corporation, answered the old colored man.

How did you come to give him such a name?

I'm studyin' de animal and readin' de papers. Dat mule gits mo' blame an' abuse dan anything else in de township, an' goes ahead havin' his own way jest de same.

A Different Matter

If I ever get hold of Binks I'll thrash him so that his mother wouldn't recognize him.

What's the matter?

He's been slandering me. He says that I did him out of $25 in a poker game.

Not at all. I heard the remark myself.

What did he say?

He said that you did him out of $25,000 in a cotton deal.

Oh, well, then, I suppose it is all right. I hardly thought he was the kind of man to go round telling stories that reflected on my character.

Help to Suppress Opium

Pekin.—The National Anti-opium congress, with a view to assisting China to suppress the opium trade, will appeal to the Young Men's Christian Association and other societies throughout the world to open funds for the purchase of as large a portion as possible of the opium stocks at the treaty ports. The stocks will be burned.

GERMANY IMPRESSED BY FRANCE

Extremists Say That Germany Should Have Attacked France Years Ago

Paris, France.—France's reply to the increase of the German army is discussed not only in military circles, but also everywhere by the mass in the street. The news that the French government proposes to spend $200,000,000 on increased armaments has given the country reason to think furiously.

Germany is filled with confidence about the superiority of her army over all others, and has proudly declared that so long as she was able to power, on land she could well afford to leave Great Britain the command of the sea.

Now however it is becoming clear that Germany's claim is not to go unchallenged, and that the defensive and offensive value of the Triple Entente is about to be fundamentally changed for the better.

It is realized here that the united power of Great Britain, France, and Russia will in a few years become the mightiest in the world, both on land and sea and in the air, and that Germany is faced after all with a very heavy task.

The adversaries of the Triple Alliance are now busy showing that it ought never to have been renewed, as the association with Austria and Italy is bringing nothing but difficulties for Germany.

The bill for increasing the German peace army to 865,000, at an additional cost of $40,000,000 a year is being discussed by the federal council, and will be passed without difficulty by the Reichstag. It must be stated that public opinion is not over-enthusiastic about this new expense, and that any further development must meet with opposition.

Among the wildest of the pan-Germans France's reply to Germany's armament has caused only fury. Germany ought to have attacked France several years ago, they say, when the French army was in a more unfavorable condition. Germany missed her chance, but it is urged that even now it would be better than two years hence, when France has reached the maximum of her defensive strength.

Fortunately for European peace the government holds a more reasonable view of the situation. Still, the war party is hard at work and nobody knows where it may lead Germany.

Attacked by a Tame Lion

Rome.—The young lion which Princess Radziwill recently took to a fancy dress ball in a chariot was being taken out for exercise on a leash in the Zoological Gardens recently, when it got loose. The animal sprang on the infant son of Count Machi, a former Italian minister at Buenos Aires and inflicted a serious wound on the boy's forehead with its claws.

NOBLEMAN CONFESSES TO THE MURDER OF WOMAN

Court and Society in St. Petersburg Excited by Sensational Crime

Berlin, Germany.—A St. Petersburg telegram to the Taegliche Rundschau gives details of a sensational murder mystery which has shaken the innermost court and society circles.

Mme. Tieme, the wife of a wealthy Russian engineer, was found murdered in her home near St. Petersburg a few days ago. She had received several visitors but at the time her body was discovered the house was empty.

The police arrested two prominent members of the aristocracy on a charge of killing Mme. Tieme. One, Baron Gismar, near St. Petersburg, made a confession, which was accepted by the court. He was also a former official of the foreign office. He was also taken into custody.

Both men are widely known in society, and their arrest causes one of the greatest sensations in St. Petersburg in recent years.

CALLS MAGISTRATE A COW

Most Deadly Insult One Can Offer to Paris Policeman

Paris.—The most deadly insult one can offer a French policeman is to say to him: Death to the cows.

A few days ago in the Rennes appeal court M. de Savignon Larombiere, the judge explained to a policeman that a cow was a noble and beautiful animal, and therefore its name could not be considered a term of opprobrium. The next day a vagabond who came up on appeal before M. de Savignon Larombiere had his original term of imprisonment doubled. On hearing the sentence the prisoner called the judge an old cow.

Immediately the judge, forgetting his philosophical defense of a few days before, ordered the vagabond a term of imprisonment to be further increased by five years for insulting him.

A Remedy for Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will work wonders in relieving pain.

WRONG MAN RELEASED

Prisoner Escapes by Answering Name of Another Man

Paris.—A clever escape from prison has just been made by a man named Charneau, who was detained at the Sainte Prison.

He was placed in a cell with other prisoners, including a man named Bruteau, who was about to be released. A policeman went to the cell and called the name Bruteau. A man stepped forward, was taken to the office, and after signing a paper in the name of Bruteau, was set at liberty.

Next morning the real Bruteau applied for his release, and the ruse was then discovered. But instead of getting his release, Bruteau has now been charged with helping his cell companion to escape.

INVENTOR RESCUED FROM WANT

Honors at Eighty-Five for Man who Lived for Years in Poverty

Paris, France.—At the age of 85 and leading till lately a life of penury, M. Charles Tellier, the inventor of a system of cold storage, was decorated recently with the cross of the legion of honor and entertained at a banquet by the International Cold Storage Association.

A few months ago it was found that the inventor was living almost in want and a subscription was raised which provided for his simple wants. His story had been like that of many inventors before him. He sacrificed his life to science and thirty years ago found a method of freezing food by means of two new chemicals—methyl ether and trimethylamine. He developed his theories, built laboratories, perfected his success, and in 1875 constructed a ship, La Frigorifique, which took a cargo of frozen meat from Rouen to La Plata and returned with the first cargo of what has since become an article of world-wide trade.

800 BABES MARRIED

Given Swearing to Keep Them Quiet During the Ceremony

Bombay.—Four hundred weddings were celebrated simultaneously at Sur-at among members of the Lewa Kunt caste.

None of the brides were over 12 years of age, the majority being from 1 to 7 years old, while the bridegrooms varied from 2 to 9.

Most of the contracting parties sat or lay on the laps of their parents during the ceremony, and were given sweets to keep them quiet.

The caste only celebrates weddings every ten or twelve years.

TRIBUTE TO CANADA

AMBASSADOR BRYCE EULOGIZES THE DOMINION

Says that the People of Great Britain Desire that the Bonds of Affection Between the Dominions and the Mother Country should be Closer and More Cordial.

Montreal.—The people of Great Britain and Ireland are keenly alive to whatever goes on in Canada and at home we desire that the bonds of affection between the Dominion and the Mother country should be ever closer and more cordial, said Right Honourable James Bryce, British ambassador at Washington, in his address at the Canadian Club luncheon recently.

Mr. Bryce referred to the splendid prosperity of the Dominion, to the singular success of the federal system of government since its inception, and to the fact that North America had enjoyed peace for nearly one hundred years. He also uttered a word of warning to Canada with regard to the problems that were facing her in connection with her national expansion.

I have long felt, said Mr. Bryce, that the Canadian clubs are unique and excellent institutions. Unique because in no other country, so far as I am aware, are there similar organizations drawing unto themselves as these do, all that is best, expressing public spirit and realizing that there is a great deal in life besides business and politics. In them only two things are thought of, the acquisition of knowledge and Canada as a whole.

They are of special interest to me who know nothing about business and have forgotten all I ever knew about politics. It is forty-three years since I visited Montreal for the first time. It is a very different place to what it was in 1870. Then it was not full of vitality and movement as it is today; business and population was comparatively slow and you had only just federation. There was no railway as far as Winnipeg, in fact I am not sure that Winnipeg existed at all. It is not many years since you realized the possibilities of the district northwest of Winnipeg.

When I first visited Winnipeg there was no idea of the existence of the fertile clay belt between there and Hudson Bay, and no notion of the vast mineral wealth of northern Ontario or of the coal deposits of the Rocky Mountains. After this no one can set limits to the great possibilities of the country.

Not less remarkable than your material progress has been the growth of your constitutional government, although in its early days there was not wanting people to show that Canada could never be a great nation. Your federal system has worked, on the whole, with wonderful success and little friction. It has worked perhaps better than anywhere else in the world; I think the only example of equal success is that of Switzerland.

You have had the great problem of two races, of peoples different in race and language whom the federal system has designed to unite. While the federation of districts so dissimilar as the province of British Columbia, the Pacific coast provinces and the Maritime provinces show that, as far as adaptation to local conditions is concerned, the federal system has been an unqualified success. And this success has been a tribute to the men who have been governed as well as those who framed the system.

Ballooning Across Atlantic

Berlin.—Joseph Brucker, the German-American aeronaut, who plans to cross the Atlantic in the balloon "Suchard II," is in Berlin saying farewell to friends prior to starting for the Canary Islands, where he expects to begin his voyage between April 12 and 14.

Mr. Brucker, with the balloon will leave Trieste for Laspalmas by steamship on March 27. The "Suchard II" is the largest balloon in existence. Its diameter is 80 feet and its gas capacity 700,000 cubic feet. Mr. Brucker will be accompanied by two assistants. They are taking three weeks' provisions, but if they have the luck they expect they will land either in the West Indies or on the northern coast of South America in five or ten days.

Arrival of Immigrants

Ottawa.—During the eleven months April 1, 1912 to March 31, 1913, of the current fiscal year, 357,331 immigrants arrived in Canada. This total is made up of 133,711 British, 124,298 from the United States and 99,322 from all other countries combined.

The corresponding eleven months of the preceding year gave a total of 311,416 immigrants, and of these 124,483 were British, 111,458 from the United States and 60,995 from all other countries combined. Percentage of increase are:

British 7 per cent.; American 6 per cent.; other countries 4 per cent.; total 17 per cent.

Rebukes War Mongers

Berlin.—The German Government publishes a sharp rebuke to certain newspapers which were declared to have been fomenting international trouble by provocative articles. It also disavows an attack made by the Cologne Gazette on France as the European mischief-maker, to which a section of the foreign press attributed an official character. The Government declared that the situation was improved and there is no doubt that the efforts of the powers toward peace will be successful.

Investigating Gold Find

Skagway, Alaska.—Dr. Young, provincial secretary of British Columbia, has arrived with dogs and supplies to make an investigation of the reported strike of placer gold at Teslin Lake. All the steamships arriving here are crowded with prospectors.

Nothing definite concerning the value of the new diggings is known. The report of the discovery was spread by an Indian, Skookum Jim, who has staked claims. The new diggings are 180 miles east of Atlin.

CHURCHILL PARTY RETURNED

Spent Sixty-Five Days in North During Very Bitter Weather

Le Pas, Man.—The Churchill party composed of Inspector French and Sergeant Munday, of the R.N.W.M.P., who left here on January 6, have returned, having taken sixty-five days to make the round trip on their way out by way of Norway House and Split Lake. They travelled eight hundred miles in twenty-six days. They reached Fort Churchill February 6 in a head storm and twenty-two below zero weather, having taken only one day to cross the barren lands. The next day the thermometer fell to 37, and the velocity of the wind rose to 55 miles an hour. They report Fort Churchill a bleak point with nothing to protect it from the wind blowing from the bay. The narrowest wood for fuel purposes is 12 miles distant.

Both travellers look none the worse for their long trip. They had to replace one of their dogs which died at Fort Churchill. Captain Douglas, of Prince Albert headquarters, welcomed the two officers on their arrival at the barracks.

Suffragettes Sent to Jail

London.—The five suffragettes who attempted to reach the king with petitions while he was on his way to parliament were sent to prison for periods ranging from 21 days to a month. The five young women gave their names as Lilian Wilcox, Dorothy Smith, Kathleen Paget, Gertrude Vaughan and Grace Stuart.

The Bow street magistrate before whom they were arraigned gave them an opportunity of escaping prison sentences by filing surretles for their future good behaviour. The young women indignantly rejected this alternative.

They were formally charged with obstructing the police. The evidence showed that the police had received specific orders to prevent anyone from "browbeating" a letter or a petition to the king while he was on the way to parliament.

The accused argued that their action was perfectly legal and was based on the right of every British subject to present a petition to the king. The magistrate explained that the right to present a petition to His Majesty must be exercised through a minister.

Two other suffragettes were sent to prison for a month for breaking windows at the home office. The women stated that they had adopted this method of protesting against the illegal arrest of the would-be petitioners.

Edmonton Prison Farm

Edmonton.—The first prison farm in western Canada is to be established by the city of Edmonton at a point some ten or twelve miles up the Saskatchewan River, near Big Island. This was decided by the council at its regular meeting, when that body adopted a recommendation of the city commissioner suggesting that Frederick W. Lyons, who opened the prison farm at Guelph, Ont., and now in the employ of the Ontario government in this capacity, be employed as superintendent of the city's farm.

The services of Mr. Lyons have been secured by the city very largely through the efforts of R. B. Chadwick, head of the department of neglected children.

Mr. Lyons has an excellent experience, says the city commissioner, and is a trusted and well recommended employee of his department. He can be depended on to take care of the whole management of the prison farm from its very inception. That is to say, he could take charge of the prisoners and through them construct the buildings that would be necessary. He could oversee both buildings and farming operations.

SPLENDID FOR CANADA

Sir A. F. Firth Believes Canada's Future is Very Great

London.—Sir Algernon Freeman Firth, president of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom speaking at the annual meeting of the association, said: The universal increase in trade in 1912 was undoubtedly owing to the development of new countries which has been going on at such a magnificent pace recently. Never had there been such a demand as during the past year for capital for developing the newer countries.

It has been a splendid year for Canada. Large sums of money have gone there and were well invested. It was a fashion to say things were going too fast in Canada, continued Sir Algernon, but I do not believe it. I have recently returned from that Dominion and the stories heard of its progress are wonderful.

DUKE'S DEPARTURE

His Royal Highness Will Sail From Halifax on March 22

Ottawa.—Definite announcement is made from Rideau Hall that their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia will sail for England on the C.P.R. steamer Empress of Britain, leaving Halifax on March 22.

Their Royal Highnesses would be accompanied by Miss Pelly, Miss Adam, Major E. S. Worthington, Capt. Buckley, Capt. Buller and Capt. Boswell. It is possible that their Royal Highnesses may spend a few days in Montreal on their way to Halifax but nothing yet has been definitely decided as to their visit.

APPROVE ARMY INCREASE

German States Obey Will of Kaiser Wilhelm

Berlin.—The finance ministers of the federated states met in conference here and unanimously agreed to the army increase. The Government's proposal to cover the initial expenditure by a non-recurrent general property tax met with general approval.

The conference further adopted a plan for taxing the wealth of the country for the purpose of meeting the greater part of the permanent increase in expenditure. Several supplementary revenue measures were also agreed to.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons &amp; Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, March 11.—We suggested in our last report that trading in the wheat market would likely be quiet until the United States Government estimate on farm reserves came out and that if the estimate was larger than usual prices would break. Our forecast has turned out correct as until today trading has been very light and prices have held steady within a very narrow range. The report of estimate issued yesterday afternoon was bearish and as a result all markets were weak and depressed. The United States markets of course declined the most, Minneapolis being down 1 3/4c, to 2 1/4c, and Chicago 1 3/4c, to 1 3/4c. In Winnipeg prices are 3/4c lower than yesterday but show no decline from where they closed a week ago. The Government gave the quantity in farmers hands as 156,000,000 bushels compared to 122,000,000 bushels a year ago. While this quantity is not as large as some expected it shows that the United States will have no scarcity of wheat during the balance of the season and with their visible stocks piling up everywhere they will probably have considerable to help supply European requirements. With this report out of the way the action of the wheat market will depend more on the conditions and prospects of the coming crops. The condition of the winter wheat crop in the States according to latest advices could not be improved on and foreign crop conditions are satisfactory so that we must look to European requirements to hold prices for the immediate future. Not that these requirements are likely to offer much substantial ground for higher prices but as a check on the very evident increase in bearish sentiment growing out of the favorable new crop prospects and the large farm reserves. Even with peace prospects the most promising since the Balkan war reached its culmination, the most important markets show no indications of weakness. The estimate of weekly requirements, running largely in line with the purchases of supplies in the international market during recent months. It is to be noted that the European demand will continue until winter carried stocks are out of the way and then milling and speculative interests might be able to take care of the balance without much further depreciation in values. Weekly statistics continue bearish. Primary receipts in the different seaports wheat markets are running much heavier than last year. The United States visible supply decreased 555,000 bushels against a decrease last year of 1,422,000 bushels. The Canadian visible supply increased 277,000 bushels making the total now 2,125,394 bushels. The world's visible supply according to Bradstreet shows a large increase for the week of 2,500,000 bushels last year it increased 1,622,000 bushels. The quantity on ocean passage is now putting very large. There was an increase last week of 2,700,000 bushels which brings the total up to 54,822,000 bushels against 28,000,000 bushels last year. The world's wheat shipments last week were 576,000 bushels less than the previous week but 4,800,000 bushels more than the corresponding week last year. Comparative details are as follows:

	Last Wk	Previous Wk	Year Ago
American	3,448,000	4,952,000	2,182,000
Russian	1,360,000	1,192,000	968,000
Danube	890,000	240,000	73,000
Indian	112,000	584,000	720,000
Argentine	5,272,000	5,848,000	2,784,000
Australia	2,560,000	1,344,000	1,640,000
Austria Hungary	24,000
Chili & North Africa	200,000	192,000	96,000
Total Bushels	13,776,000	14,352,000	9,168,000

Opposed to War Panic

Paris.—Some opposition to the immense and hurried increase of the peace footing of the French army has made its appearance. 350 professors of the Sorbonne, many of them among the finest scholars in France, have issued a united address to the people of France not to allow themselves to yield thoughtlessly to the military panic and the force of reaction which tend toward desperate adventures hostile to the republican government.

Investigate Cut Worm Evil

Lethbridge, Alta.—The Dominion government has advised W. H. Fairfield, superintendent of the experimental farm here, that an expert entomologist, Mr. Strickland, would leave Ottawa shortly to thoroughly investigate the cut-worm evil in southern Alberta. Tracts of worm-infested land on different farms are being secured for experiments and at the government farm here.

Will Help Sheep Raisers

Lethbridge.—An Ottawa despatch indicates that the government is prepared to help the wool industry in southern Alberta. They propose to place two men to sort and pack for the English market and pay twenty-five per cent of the cost of the shipment to the old country. They can put southern Alberta on the market in this year in competition with the Australian and South African product.

Vice Admiral Retires

London.—Speaking at the banquet of the chamber of Commerce, Vice Admiral Sir Percy Scott said: At the end of this week I will be out of the navy. There is no reason for me to remain when I only block the path to promotion of those my junior. The admiral declared that the British navy was never more efficient than at the present time.

CANADA MAY GET FACTORIES

German and British Capitalists Will Enquire into Dominion Conditions and Prepare Reports

London.—Two deputations, whose investigations may have an important bearing on Canada's commercial future will visit the Dominion this summer. In July about a hundred German manufacturers and merchants, led by Herr Webber, will make an extended tour examining water power and local circumstances governing the establishment of manufacturing. The party, which will start from Leipzig, will travel right through the eastern provinces and possibly will go west as well.

A second party of visitors will consist of a deputation of the Machinery Users association of Great Britain, the president of which is Sir Francis Cawley and the vice-presidents, Lord Rotherham and Sir William Houldsworth—the names of whom are associated with British manufacturing the world over. The association has decided to send to Canada a small committee of enquiry, which will probably consist of three or four, including Humphreys Davies, the association's consulting surveyor, to prepare an impartial report setting the prospects of trade in the various districts, and especially regarding the establishment of various kinds of factories. Enquiries also will be made concerning openings for capital investment. On their return a general report will be prepared and also special reports for private firms.

FOR IMPERIAL DEFENCE

HOW CANADA CAN BE OF GREAT EST HELP

Sir Geo. Reid Believes That in the Near Future Canada Will Have to Undertake the Defense of the North Pacific and the North Atlantic.

London.—In the course of a speech before the Royal Colonial Institute, Sir George Reid, high commissioner for Australia made interesting references to the question of Imperial defence, expressing the opinion that the time was not far distant when Canada would have to undertake the defence of the North Pacific and the North Atlantic. Australia and New Zealand, he stated, would be safeguarding the South Pacific while India must eventually take a substantial share in the naval defence of the East. Such a scheme, he pointed out, would leave England free to concentrate in the North Sea, and a large proportion of the trade routes.

Sir George thought the Australian policy having its own navy and operating in conjunction with the British fleet, was the example which must eventually be followed by all the self-governing Dominions. Meanwhile he could suggest nothing better than the present system of Imperial conferences and consultations with the Imperial defence committee open to the Dominions, and with freedom to the Dominions to share the burden of defence, either by having their own navies or by contributing to the British navy, a system which was consistent with the freedom of action and the co-operation of all the self-governing parts of the Empire.

Speaking on the suggestion of the establishment of an Imperial Parliament, with especial reference to India, Sir George declared that while the idea was undoubtedly a noble one it had many anxieties about it.

Would this Parliament of the empire, he asked, for instance, recognize the color line and leave out representation of 38,000,000 of the King's subjects.

In regard to these Imperial subjects the commissioner said some people were getting a little sick of perorations which let them have any ideas for consideration, but in regard to the safety of the Empire he emphasized the belief that there would be better development of naval and military strength by proceeding on the present basis than by merging independent energies into one common Parliament.

Sir Joseph Ward said he agreed with Sir George that it was improbable that any self-governing dominion would consent to return to the old system of government under a central authority.

Earl Brassey gave the assurance that as far as the Empire's naval defences were concerned there was nothing to be afraid of at the present moment. Indeed he felt justified in repeating Lord Fisher's assurances that they might sleep peacefully at home in their beds.

A French Explanation

Paris.—The Paris newspaper L'Intransigeant publishes an article intended to explain the increased military activity of France recently.

Through an indiscretion of an eminent Italian politician the paper says, the French government learned on January 13, that Germany had asked Italy if she could be ready to join with Germany and Austria in a campaign to begin in October, 1913, to put an end by decisive action to the general uneasiness in Europe.

The French government made inquiries which resulted in full confirmation of this information and then decided to proceed with urgent military measures.

Peary Going for Med'l

Portland, Maine.—Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary will sail next Saturday from New York for Rome when he will be presented with a gold medal by the Royal Italian Geographical Society of Rome, in honor of the discovery of the North Pole. Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club, who with Mrs. Peary, Miss Marie Peary and Robert E. Peary, Jr., will accompany the admiral.

No More Fire Horses

New York.—The day of the fire horse in New York City is over. We will purchase no more horses for the fire department, Commissioner Johnson announced. We have now about 1,500 horses in the department, apparatus with motors as fast as possible.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XII.—FIRST QUARTER, FOR MARCH 23, 1913

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xlv, 58-67. Memory Verses, 64, 66—Golden Text Prov. iii, 6—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We have our choice this week of a resurrection lesson from Mark xvi or the regular lesson, but as we saw Isaac risen from the dead in our last lesson and this one shows us a bride for Isaac and his marriage, suggesting the resurrection of the bride of Christ, the church, and the marriage of the Lamb, we will take the regular lesson.

After the figurative death and resurrection of Isaac (quite a reality) to both Abraham and Isaac) Abraham returned to Beersheba and dwelt there. It is our privilege to dwell always by the well of Him that liveth and setteth us and by the well of God's faithfulness and with joy draw water from the wells of salvation (Gen. xlv, 13, 14, margin; xli, 31, margin; Isa. xli, 3).

Gen. xlv tells of the death and burial of Sarah at the age of 127 years and of the purchase of the cave of Machpelah at Hebron as a burial place. Gen. xlv is the record of Abraham's servant obtaining a wife for Isaac and is wonderfully suggestive of the present work of the Holy Spirit obtaining a bride for the crucified and risen Christ. We know from Eph. v, 31, 32, that Adam and Eve are typical of Christ and the church, and there is much to be learned from all the brides of Scripture, notably Rebekah, Rachel, Asenath and others. The Bride, the Lamb's wife, is described in Rev. xxi, and in Jer. lvi, 1, Jehovah says that He is married to Israel.

We have seen Abraham promised a seed as the dust of the earth or the sand of the sea and again as the stars of heaven, and we have seen the two combined (Gen. xlii, 16; xlv, 6; xlii, 17). Later we shall see the star promise given to Isaac and the star promise to Jacob (xxvi, 4; xxviii, 14), and some day when we see the elect church and the elect Israel completely gathered, the heavenly and the earthly seed of Abraham, the stars and the sand, we may wonder that we did not see it before.

In our lesson chapter we see a wealthy father and his only son, who had been given back to him from the dead in a figure and to whom he had given all that he had (verses 35, 36). We see also a servant who had control of all his master's goods going forth to obtain a wife for this son and carrying with him samples of his master's wealth (verses 10, 22, 53). The story of the servant's prayer, his childlike trust in God, the direct answer to his prayer and his refusal to eat till he had told his errand are all most fascinating and instructive and a grand commentary on the Golden Text.

As we read of the only son to whom the father gave all that he had we cannot but recall these words: "All things are delivered unto Me of My Father. The Father loveth the Son and hath given him all things into His hand (Mat. xi, 27; John iii, 35). Then as to the Holy Spirit, whose special work in this age is to obtain a bride for Christ and who is suggested by Abraham's servant and his commission, we cannot but think of these words concerning Him: He shall testify of me. He shall receive mine and shall show it unto you (John xv, 26; xvi, 14). The Holy Spirit tells in His word of the wealth and the love of the Son of God, and the only question for the sinner is: Wilt thou go with this man? (Verse 58).

When the reply is, as Rebekah's was, I will go, then the matter of our redemption is settled, and we start on our way to meet our Isaac, having received from the Spirit evidences of His love and His riches of grace, such as are set forth in Eph. i, 3, 6, 7, 13, 14; Rom. iii, 24; v, i, vii, 1; i, 1 John iii, 1, 2, etc. We must start at once as the servant did with Rebekah, and not tarry in the old surroundings for we are now His purchased property and we are to serve the living and true God and to wait for His Son from Heaven, whom He raised from the dead, even Jesus, who delivered us from the wrath to come (1 Thess. i, 9, 10). There is no record of the journey beyond the fact that Rebekah and her damsels rode upon the camels and followed the man as he took them and went his way.

It must have been a long journey, commonplace and weary, and they knew not the way, but the man knew the way, and they had only to follow him. The only true life of the believer is to yield to the Holy Spirit's control and guidance and let Him have His own way with us in everything. We cannot but believe that the servant would have much to tell of Isaac and his wealth and that he had little if he could tell about and we can scarcely think that she would grow weary of hearing about him to whom she had already given herself and with whom she expected to spend her life as his wife, the sharer of his joys and sorrows.

Rebekah's covering herself as she met her beloved makes us think of the seraphim of Isa. vi, who in the presence of the glory cover themselves with their wings and of Paul, some of whose favorite words were: Not I, but Christ; not I, but the grace of God (Gal. ii, 20; 1 Cor. xv, 10). In verse 67 we read that Isaac was comforted and 1 Thess. iv, 18, tells us to comfort one another, with the thought of meeting our Beloved in the air when He shall welcome His bride.

NO HEREDITARY PEERS

Under No Circumstances Will its Absolute Veto Upon Measures be Restored

London.—During the course of the debate in the House of Commons, the Postmaster General, the Right Honourable L. M. Samuel, intimated that it was the intention of the Government during the lifetime of the present parliament to introduce a bill for reform of the House of Lords.

He said that the new second chamber would contain no vestige of the hereditary principle and that under no circumstances would its absolute vote be restored.

Gleichen, Alberta, March 20, 1913

Short-term prisoners will hereafter work out their fines on a model farm, to be established by the municipality at a cost of $13,000, on a plot of land near Big Island, on the Saskatchewan river, 12 miles southwest of here. This will be the first prison farm in western Canada. Frederick W. Lyons, now in the employ of the provincial government of Ontario at Guelph, will be superintendent of the institution. Eight thousand dollars of the cost will be borne by current revenue, the balance being raised by the sale of debentures, running 10 years.

Mr. Lyons will have two assistants on the farm, 50 acres of which has been under cultivation. The prisoners will assist in erecting the necessary buildings, in addition to repairing those already on the ground, and will clear the land of fallen trees. The wooded portion of the farm will be cleared and cultivated, the hillsides being reforest-
ed. The land will be used for dairying, truck farming, poultry growing and gardening, the output being sold in local markets at prevailing prices.

There are several large deposits of gravel and sand on the bank of the river, the products of which are to be used for building purposes. Investigations also will be made to determine the existence of clay for manufacturing.

R. B. Chadwick, head of the department of neglected children for Alberta, who has had a varied experience with delinquents of all classes, says Mr. Lyons will give a good account of his work, predicting also that the model prison farm will be a success, at the same time it will save thousands of dollars to the people.

When the model prison farm is put into working order, no doubt some of our ambitious boys when caught in unlawful acts will put forth the excuse they are desirous of obtaining an agricultural education.

The present government cannot be accused of neglecting the best interests of agricultural progress and development, and are to be congratulated upon the fact that while their works are extensive, they are taking care that they are sufficiently expansive to provide for the wants of the country for many years to come. The country is tired of legislation that only lasts for the life of a generation or so, and then has no abiding character, and which in the end costs millions of money to be rendered effective and operative—millions of which could have been saved in the first instance by looking well ahead instead of merely fulfilling the obligations of the moment.

Ore samples tested by competent analysts at the assaying laboratory of the University of Alberta in Edmonton prove that the mineral wealth of the province has as yet only been vaguely surmised. Some of the ore runs high in gold, silver and copper, while other pieces show iron and lead. Prospectors, who have tramped over the foothills of the Canadian Rockies, predict that the next big "rush" on the north American continent will be into north western Alberta and eastern British Columbia, adding that the vast hinterland also will be a scene of activity with the introduction of transportation lines. More than a dozen exploration companies are boring for oil, natural gas and asphaltum in districts north of Edmonton and as the tests are highly satisfactory they will continue development work throughout the season.

Many farmers are taking advantage of the free trees for the beautifying and protection of their homes and farm buildings offered by the Forestry Branch of the C. P. R.
Department of Natural Resources, in connection with their wind break competition in which cash prizes to a total of $2,500 will be awarded. They are anxiously waiting for spring so as to be able to plant the trees and secure as much of the winter moisture in the ground as possible, thus giving the young trees a good start and thereby securing more points for the cultivation, growth and appearance of the trees in the summer judging.

Anyone who writes to the Forestry Branch will receive full particulars regarding the contest. If the settlers realized the importance and benefit derived from having trees around farm buildings and appreciated the generous offer made by the Canadian Pacific Railway to supply one half of the trees free and the cash prizes, there would be from two to four thousand trees on every farmer's land for windbreak purposes. The trees that the Forestry Branch are supplying are three or four feet high and are Alberta grown stock. There is only little over two months remaining before the trees will be shipped, and any farmer who contemplates the planting of trees should send in his order at once so as to insure his receiving the stock in first-class condition. As the trees are native to the province the long transit between nursery and farm is done away with, and there is thus less fear of the stock being dried out and killed.

THESE FARM MACHINES ARE MAKING GOOD

THE McCormick line of farm machines has endeared itself to the hearts of thousands of farmers. We handle it because we know it is the best. We handle McCormick binders, mowers, rakes, reapers, huskers and shredders, knife and tool grinders, binder twine, corn machines and a full and complete line of repairs. Call and look over line over and learn exactly what we have. It will take only a few moments of your time, and when you are in need of new farm machines or repairs for McCormick machines, you will know that we are ready to serve you. We will be only too glad to show you the McCormick line of farm machines, and we want you to call and get a catalogue. If there is any particular machine in which you are interested, make your wants known and we will see that you are supplied.

AUTOMOBILES

With the advent of 1913 many new cars are noted on the Canadian markets. Both new and old show many refinements and improvements over 1912.

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK builders have made good their claim to a country built car.

A car built for our none-to-good Canadian roads.

A car fitted with all the latest improvements.

The prices are moderate. Careful comparison is invited with the higher priced cars and especially with cheap cars whose makers base their extravagant claims of present worth on what their cars have not, instead of what they have.

We also have some excellent values in rebuilt cars repainted and overhauled.

Call or write for price lists.

Our M. P. P. Favors Farm Machinery Act

Harold W. Riley, M.P.P. for the Gleichen constituency writes the CALL that he considers the act passed on the 12th instant, without amendment, a good measure and states he believes it should go a long way towards relieving present conditions in connection with the sale of farm machinery.

The bill is No. 82 and relates to "An Act respecting Agreements for the Sale of Farm Machinery" and reads as follows:

"His Majesty, by and with the consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Alberta, enacts as follows:

1—This Act may be cited as "The Farm Machinery Act."

2—"Farm Machinery" in this Act shall mean any and every implement and machine purchased by a farmer for use upon any farm, and without in any way restricting this meaning shall include all engines, threshing machines, steam plows, binders and mowers.

3—No covenant, proviso, stipulation or condition in any agreement (whether under seal, verbal or written) shall be binding upon the purchaser of farm machinery, provided a court or judge shall decide or declare that such covenant, proviso stipulation or condition is, under all the facts and circumstances of the case unreasonable.

4—Notwithstanding anything contained in any agreement to the contrary, the vendor shall be responsible for all representations made by his agent or agents during the negotiations of sale, and any and all persons conducting negotiations on behalf of vendor which terminate in an actual sale shall be deemed to be agents of the vendor.

5—Notwithstanding anything in any agreement contained to the contrary all farm machinery shall be sold as warranted and guaranteed to be made of good material, to be properly constructed both as to design and workmanship, to be in good working order, to satisfactorily perform the work for which it is intended, to be free from latent and other defects and to be in every way so designed and constructed as with proper care and use to ensure reasonable durability.

6—This Act shall not apply to second-hand machinery.

If the proposed short trousers for men come into style we may be able to see how some men support themselves.

A report comes from north of town of a hen that laid five eggs a day. That hen must be a poor mathematician.

Mrs. Charles Dayton left Saturday for Winnipeg, to join her husband, who is travelling the territory of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, for the Canadian Stock Food Co. of Calgary. Her brother Jay Nichols accompanied her as far as Regina.

Geo. Ledoux spent last week in town, having returned from Montana to look after his farm interest at Rosebud. Mr. Ledoux states that while he has retired to Montana that if he was a young man he knows of no country that he would choose in preference to the Gleichen district, as he believes it holds out more inducements for young people to prosper than any other. His son Frank will remain here permanently.

Word has been received in Gleichen that a daily newspaper was started some time ago in Medicine Hat named "The C.I." Now, this is strange to this CALL, for we believed we had a cinch on the name "Call" or in the vernacular of cowboy, corralled the name. This CALL was named CALL by S. M. Dickinson after a strenuous advertising campaign. At that time only two newspapers were known to bear the name on this continent—one in California and the other in Nova Scotia, the latter becoming extinct. Now is it any wonder that we feel it is unfair that our name should be "cabbaged" by a town that Kipling described as having "All hell for a basement." But, what's the use—seeing that the Hat Call has not yet reached this far west—hope it won't get down to Kipling's basement anyway.

Interesting Meeting Gleichen U.F.A.

(Supplied by Secretary Trego)

Minutes of the meeting of U.F.A. held in Palace Hotel sample rooms, Gleichen, March 15th, 1913.

Meeting was called to order by N. N. Hayes, president.

Upon roll call of officers the following were noted present: N. N. Hayes, president; H. W. Lee, vice-president and W. D. Trego, secretary.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved of.

Two communications from Henry Sorensen, chairman of the combined Irrigation committees, bearing date of March 11th were read and discussed.

A letter from F. Vanderburg, of Scribner, Neb., and one from E. C. Wigneham, of Ashland, Neb., together with the reply of the secretary were next read.

A letter from Geo. Zimmerman, solicitor and addressed to the farmers of the Irrigation Block was read and discussed.

The name of O. Desjardine was presented for membership by J. Rouche and upon motion of J. R. Allgood and Jas. Naylor he was elected.

The next matter taken up was a report that implement dealers were asking farmers to sign petitions to the Legislature requesting that the form of machine contracts and machine notes as drafted by the executive of the U.F.A. and members of the Legislature be not adopted.

The secretary was requested to draft a letter to the Premier and members of the Legislature requesting that the act be passed and all present signed the letter to go forward at once.

The secretary reported that a carload of flour had arrived at Cluny and would be in Gleichen on Tuesday or Wednesday of the coming week.

The matter of selecting a deputy weed inspector was taken up and nominations to the number of seven made, each nominee positively declining to act if elected. After some discussion, on motion of J. R. Allgood and Wm. Kirkup the matter was tabled until next meeting.

A paper was read by the secretary "To the subscribers of the fighting fund organized by the Irrigation Farmers of the United Farmers of Alberta", which covered the work of the Irrigation committees from the season of 1910 up to the present time.

The regular annual membership fee of an ex-member was then offered by one of the members and it was moved by H. W. Lee and Jas. Naylor that we accept him as a new member, but the motion was lost upon a vote being taken and the secretary was instructed to collect all arrears to date.

Upon motion of Wm. Kirkup and J. R. Allgood we then adjourned to meet at 2 p.m., Saturday March 22

Mayne rose and walked up and down the room once or twice and then sat down again. He was greatly disturbed and shaken, and there was that in Thorold's manner that filled him with a deep fear. He knew that Thorold's was exercising an immense restraint upon himself, and it seemed to him that when the break-up of this restraint took place it would be frightful.

Revenge is a poor business, he said suddenly.

Very like, agreed Thorold, but it happens to be the only thing in life that I retain a taste for.

My dear fellow, said Mayne, very gravely, have you considered—

Everything, said Thorold.

If you went to the police—, began Mayne and paused.

Everything would become known, and Frank would be branded as a thief, said Thorold; if I was too late to save his life, I will guard his honor.

We used to think it the more important thing.

Then, said Mayne hesitatingly, there was a deficiency.

I have paid three thousand pounds into his account today, Thorold answered, that will cover everything.

Three thousand pounds, repeated Mayne, startled at the magnitude of the sum; was it so bad as that?

I judged it best to be on the safe side, answered Thorold. My story is that Frank and I went together for some deep sea-fishing, and that I came ashore but he put out again. I have taken steps to make sure that the boat shall be found capsized; and I capitalized it will be assumed that it was capsized and he was drowned. It is wonderful what may be done when one has money behind one.

It is a daring scheme, said Mayne thoughtfully, after Thorold had added a few explanatory details.

That is why it has a chance of succeeding, answered Thorold, and because I have spent a good deal of money—money smoothes suspicion as it does everything else.

But to burn down the house, repeated Mayne, to whom this act seemed alarming in the extreme, I can make out why you did that.

What else could I do? Thorold answered.

I could not bury or hide Frank's body in any sure way, and it would have been fatal for it to have been found. Besides, I—, he stopped with a sudden choking in his throat; ah, I hated it, he stammered, you cannot imagine how I hated that house, for being the scene of the lad's murder.

I was glad to destroy it. I think it was in my mind, to destroy so utterly the house, would be a sign and a symbol to the murderers, that I would destroy them in the same way, the same way!

Wilton Mayne looked at his friend in silence. In truth, he was somewhat surprised at the depth and strength of the feeling shown by Thorold, for his own emotional and excitable nature had been apt to mistake the other's reserve for coldness and indifference.

Of course, he had always known that Edward Thorold loved his young brother Frank—sometimes he had said jestingly that Edward cared for nothing in the world but Frank—but yet this depth and intensity of emotion startled him and frightened him as well.

So, you see, the story I want your help in, Thorold continued, is that Frank was drowned in this fishing expedition. I want you to confirm the points I have mentioned. His accounts will be found irregular, but there will be more than enough standing to his private account to cover any deficiency, and there will be no proof of anything worse than carelessness. I have seen Lord Mullover. Whether he has any suspicion or not I do not know, but I am sure from what he said he will do his best to back my story up—for mother's sake. He knows as well as I do that any hint of such a thing would kill her. His new town agent in Frank's place will be Mr. Tomlinson, and we can trust him to be discreet.

Poor Frank! Poor Frank! Wilton Mayne sighed, it is a dreadful affair. When I wrote to warn you that he was in bad company I never dreamed things would have gone so far. To what an end have high play at cards and an infatuation for a pretty face brought him. Why I thought a few sharp words from you would bring him to his senses, and now—

Now he has been murdered, said Thorold harshly.

Such a dear, good, bright lad, Mayne went on dreamily, and once he had seen his wild oats and settled down he would have been all the better for having had a past. I am sure I am

SHOT IN CONFESSION BOX

Victim of Man Who Mistook Him for Another Against Whom he Had Grudge

Berlin, Germany.—Father Wenger, a Roman Catholic priest, was shot dead while sitting in his confessional at St. Engelbert's Church at Mulheim-on-Ruhr, in Rhenish Prussia, early this morning. The assassin was a Dutchman named Weindard, who is evidently demented.

The murderer was at once arrested. From his statements it appears that he intended to kill the parish priest, named Weiler, against whom he apparently had some grudge, but the man actually shot was another priest who was conducting a special mission at the church.

Since last Sunday a party of about twenty Jesuit fathers have been conducting a mission in Mulheim, and the murdered priest, Father Petrus Wenger, S. J., was the leader of the mission.

Father Wenger was hearing the confession of a girl when Weindard stole up, drew back the curtain shielding the priest from view and without a word, shot him through the heart. He afterward told the police that he killed Father Wenger in mistake for another priest. Father Weiler, who the murderer claimed, had stolen his guardian angel.

IN A SHADOW

Inveterate Tea Drinker Feared Paralysis

Steady use of either tea or coffee often produces alarming symptoms as the poison (caffeine) contained in these beverages acts with more potency on some persons than in others.

"I was never a coffee drinker," writes an ill woman, "but a tea drinker. I was very nervous, had frequent spells of sick headache and heart trouble, and was subject at times to severe attacks of bilious colic."

"No end of sleepless nights—would have spells at night when my right side would get numb and tingle like a thousand needles were pricking my flesh. At times I could hardly put my tongue out of my mouth and my right eye and ear were affected."

"The doctors told me I was liable to become paralyzed at any time, so I was in constant dread. I took no end of medicine—all to no good."

"The doctors told me to quit using tea, but I thought I could not live without it—that it was my only stay. I had been a tea drinker for twenty-five years; was under the doctor's care for fifteen."

"About six months ago, I finally quit tea and commenced to drink Postum. I have never had one spell of sick headache since and only one light attack of bilious colic. Have quit having those numb spells at night, sleep well and my heart is getting stronger all the time." Name given upon request.

Postum now comes in concentrated powder form, called Instant Postum. It is prepared by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, adding sugar to taste, and enough cream to bring the color to golden brown.

Instant Postum is convenient; there's no waste; and the flavor is always uniform. Sold by grocers everywhere.

A 5-cent trial tin mailed for grocer's name and 2-cent stamp for postage. Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ont.

EVERY ABLE MAN A SOLDIER

German Chancellor Would Have His Country an Armed Camp in Peace

Berlin, Germany.—At a banquet of the German Agricultural Council held recently, the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg made a speech, in which he said:

The desire for peace which I believe animates all the great powers, and which I hope, will help us over the Balkan crisis, has its soundest basis in the universal and vital necessity for developing the strength of the nations in every progressive labor. We shall be compelled this year to strengthen our land armaments.

It is the will of the people, if I understand it right, that every able-bodied man shall be a soldier.

The empire, the state, our hearths and homes are too sacred for us not to be resolved upon the adoption of the extreme measures to secure and defend them against war and the danger of war.

In this the nation is united, and it will remain united when we discuss the bills in the Reichstag at Easter.

NEW WAR MACHINES

English People Beginning to Realize Importance and Need of Aerial Fleet

London, England.—The publication of the king's telegram to Mr. Grahame-White, congratulating him upon building a biplane strictly for military purposes, sent a great many people to the aero show at Olympia to see what the new war machine is like.

To begin with, its very large inclosed body filled them with surprise. The public in England has not followed the recent development of the aeroplane with enough attention. Compare with the motor car, the biplane (wicker chairs), wind screens (as in the Vickers' monoplane), self starting devices as in the Short waterplane, which abolish the tedious process of turning the propeller to make the engine fire; electrophones to magnify the sound of the pilot's and the passenger's voices and so enable them to talk freely in spite of the motor's roar (as in the Handley-Page exhibit)—all these improvements are making flying more attractive and foreshadowing the day when it will be a recognized and favorite method of travel.

Another feature of this Grahame-White biplane which struck those who have some knowledge of aircraft, was the smallness of its wing surface. This it may be necessary to increase. It will almost certainly be found also that its 30-horsepower motor (Austro-Daimler) is too weak for it. It was designed for a motor of 120 horse power and that power is none too great.

The idea of the construction is that the machine shall be used both for scouting and for attack. To give the observer a clear field of vision the propeller is put at the back and driven from the motor in front by shaft and chain. On the nose of the machine is mounted a Colt quick-firing gun, which can be fired either up or down or in a straight line. In a brush between aircrafts this would be an awkward enemy to meet. The machine can carry enough petrol for a six-hour flight.

Other British machines designed for war, which are on view at Olympia include the Royal Aircraft Factory biplane, the Bristol Company's 80-horsepower monoplane, and the Vickers' 70-horsepower, all steel biplane, with Vickers' engine, which is also fitted with gun. There is space for 1500 rounds of ammunition and for a man to work the gun, so it could conceivably do a vast amount of damage.

The controls are so arranged that if anything happens to the pilot the passenger could work them without changing his position.

Another very interesting war machine is the new British 80-horsepower monoplane, of which photographs are exhibited at the Bristol stand. It has not yet been shown in public but the secret trials are said to have given excellent results. This machine is designed to be a destroyer, just as one object of torpedoes is to blow up battleships on the task of the British destroyer will be to seek to annihilate airships.

CITY'S KEYS IN PAWN

Golden Emblem of Authority Stolen From Mayor's Office

Naples.—The mayor of Naples is endeavoring to recover the great golden keys of the city which are at present lying in a pawnbroker's shop.

Some time ago a baker named Circo obtained a verdict of $1250 damages. The court of appeals decided against the municipality. In default of prompt payment the man's bailiffs dropped into the mayor's office one morning during his worship's absence and seized the ancient gold key and some fine oil paintings and marble busts of Italian sovereigns. He put the lot in pawn.

The mayor is now suing the bailiffs.

ART TREASURES FOR AMERICA

Superb Collection of Chinese Porcelain to Find Abiding Place in This Country

London, England.—Another highly important collection of art treasures is about to leave England for the United States. Mr. Gorrie, the Bond street dealer in Chinese porcelain, through whose hands have already passed the Alfred Trapnell and the two Bennett collections, has now acquired the superb collection of Chinese porcelain formed by George R. Davies, and has arranged to send it across the Atlantic before December next.

The collection comprises some 600 pieces, without exception of the finest quality. Among the numerous great examples is what is acknowledged to be the finest known famille-verte vase void in form, the black background decorated on either side with a large panel containing birds on flowering trees. It is valued at about $25,000.

An even more precious piece, valued at $22,500, is the largest known piece of reticulated porcelain of the early Kansei period. It is in the form of a circular incense box and cover decorated with figures of the eight immortals, very brilliantly enameled in colors of the period.

The collection also includes many examples of whole-color porcelain, among them what is perhaps one of the finest San-de-houet vases in existence, and certainly one of the most superb and important apple-greens.

LONG MARCH KILLS BOY

Military Enthusiasm of Lads Ends in Tragedy

Paris.—Four boys, whose ages run from 12 to 13, left Sedan one morning last week to follow a regiment of infantry on the march.

Their enthusiasm for the army and the regimental band fired their youthful patriotism and kept them marching all day, until one of their number, Andre Lennion, a boy of 12, fell out from the ranks and, collapsing by the roadside, told his companions that he could go no further.

The boys were penniless, and their pride prevented them from begging. They went into a wood and dragged themselves, footsore and weary, to a hut among the trees.

There they spent the night, and Lennion's companions did what they could for him. It was not until next morning, when they could get no reply from him, that they went for help. Then it was found that the boy was dead.

GERMANY BUILDING BIG FLEET

New Type of Ship, Which It is Said, Will Revolutionize Naval Warfare

London, March 8.—A disclosure of supreme importance affecting the naval position of Great Britain is made in the Engineer, a technical paper of the highest reputation, which does not make statements without reliable authority.

This journal gives details of a formidable and entirely new type of warship which is being constructed for the German admiralty. The design was first offered to the British government, but beyond a bare acknowledgment, no further action was taken.

The new type is described as speedier than any dreadnought. It lies low in the water, not much more than a wash, and it fights end on. The only target it presents to the enemy's fire is a bow shield sloping backward and of such shape and thickness as to be virtually impenetrable.

It serves as the carriage of a single gun of maximum power, furnished with projectiles that play the part of aerial torpedoes, and the gun remains perpetually screened, except at the moment of firing.

The vessel can be kept at sea in all weathers and can fight effectively at the longest ranges. Twenty of these destroyers can be built for the cost of a single super-dreadnought and the German naval experts hold, with ample reason, that a super-dreadnought must inevitably succumb if attacked by even five of such small craft. It is stated by the writer of the article in the Engineer that the attention of the British government was drawn to this type in a letter sent to Mr. Asquith some four years ago on behalf of a group of confidential engineers, who had been made acquainted with a certain design prepared conjointly by the late Sir Edward Reed (a former chief constructor of the navy) and the writer of the article.

The design was prepared in 1884, and the engineers alluded to had elaborated the design in accordance with the progress of naval architecture and armament between 1884 and 1909, and had also taken part in the development of submarine vessels for naval purposes.

Mr. Asquith formally acknowledged the receipt of the letter, says the writer, and there the matter dropped so far as England was concerned.

A different fate, however, awaited an analogous communication addressed by the same group of engineers to a high quarter in Germany. Action thereupon was at once taken under conditions of a most profound secrecy which have been successfully maintained for nearly four years.

Matters have now reached a development of such magnitude, however, adds the writer, that certain particulars of what Germany is doing have begun to leak out.

He considers that in view of the astute attitude that has just been taken up by Grand Admiral von Tirpitz it seems desirable for the British public to be given an inkling of the true state of affairs. The German dreadnoughts he declares to be a ruse.

They loom large in popular estimation—and, it is feared, in that of the British admiralty also—as the first line of battle; but in reality they are intended to play a secondary part. The stress of conflict will lie with the German destroyers and submarines.

In regard to submarines, the writer makes the equally startling assertion that a German physician of eminence has invented a way of boring up light and redistributing it round a submerged submarine. In the daytime, when the surface of the water is absorbing light, these rays can be caught up and reconverted into light under the sea to enable the commander of the submerged submarine to see his way fairly well. This means, he claims, that German submarines can be employed for relatively distant expeditions without detection, as they need not show themselves in the daytime and can wait for night before coming to the surface to renew their stock of air.

IMPERSONATING A MOTHER

Woman Paid to Act as Bride's Parent at Wedding

Paris.—With the help of her uncle a girl named Bouches has married a farm hand with whom she fell in love, although her mother had refused to give her consent to the marriage.

Mlle. Bouches was a favorite of her uncle and lived with him at La Calus, in the Department of Aveyron. The uncle gave the wife of his estate agent $300 and two fat oxen to represent at the ceremony the girl's mother, who lives in Paris. The estate agent's wife gave her consent to the marriage and the ceremony was performed.

Mme. Bouches now threatens to bring an action against the uncle and the woman who acted as her substitute.

Blind Scientist at Work

Stockholm.—M. Gustaf Dalen, the young Swedish engineer who was awarded the Nobel prize for physics last year, is now totally blind as the result of an explosion while he was making an experiment last September. M. Dalen, however, returned to work and as a thank offering for his escape with his life he gave his workmen an extra week's wages, amounting to about $1500.

A Different Matter

If I ever get hold of Binks I'll thrash him so that his mother wouldn't recognize him.

What's the matter?
He's been slandering me. He says that I did him out of $25 in a poker game.

What did he say?
He said that you did him out of $25,000 in a cotton deal.

Oh, well, then, I suppose it is all right. I hardly thought he was the kind of man to go round telling stories that reflected on my character.

Tourist—I say, guide, it's about time we were getting near the falls, isn't it?

Twitching of the Nerves

A Distressing Symptom of Nervous Exhaustion Cured by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. John McKellar.

What sympathy you feel for anyone whose nerves twitch and jerk, and what resolves you make to never allow your nervous system to become exhausted, until paralysis of some form claims you as a victim.
The only way is to watch the warning symptoms, such as sleeplessness, headache, indigestion, tired feelings and irritability. By the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you can feed the feeble, wasted nerves back to health and vigor, restore the vitality of the body, and prevent serious disease.

Mrs. John McKellar, 11 Barton street east, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I was injured some years ago, and that left me with a broken-down nervous system. I could not sleep, and suffered from twitching of the nerves and disagreeable nervous sensations."

"I then began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that I never used any medicine that did me so much good; in fact, I am entirely cured of my old trouble. The Nerve Food not only strengthened the nerves, but also built up my system in every way." Under date of Aug. 29, 1912, Mrs. McKellar writes, confirming her cure, and states that she has had inquiries from many people who had heard of the great benefits she obtained from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Heartless

How did you get along when you told your father of our engagement? asked the timid young man.

Oh, dear, she answered, it was dreadful. I'm so ashamed of papa. I don't believe he has a heart.

Was he unfavorable?
That's no name for it. When I talked to him about our living on love in a cottage on seven dollars a week I couldn't make him listen to reason at all.

It was evident that the orator's wife was not present to hear him express his sentiments.

My friends, he shouted, there ought to be only one head to every family. Quite right, replied the nervous and worried looking man in the front row. You agree with me, sir? said the orator.

I do, replied the worried looking man. I've just paid for new hats for nine daughters and one wife.

CONSTANTINOPLE DOOMED

European Residents Wondering How Long Town Can Hold Out

Constantinople, Turkey.—The type-written sheets of the Agency Ottomane are daily pinned up on the green baize boards of the European Club of Constantinople. Every day streams of members, shedding wraps and overcoats and goloshes in the hall, pass those sheets with a brief glance of the masterly vagueness of their contents, and always on the subject most important to all people here, they find the same bland, uninformative statement:
Le bombardement d'Adrinople continue.

There are fifty theories about the state of Adrinople, but no sure knowledge. Never was a siege more rigorously conducted, for since the beginning of the war no single scrap of reliable information concerning the beleaguered city has been allowed to leak out into the waiting world. Not a fugitive from within has made his way through the Bulgarian cordon. So far as is known, no one from within has ever made his way in. It is said that wireless communication is maintained with the beleaguered garrison, but a good many people disbelieve this.

I do not doubt that there have been attempts to communicate with Adrinople by wireless, because I have seen the operators busy at work in the wireless station at Haden-keul. But it is very doubtful whether any answer has been received. The Ottoman army that the wireless apparatus in Adrinople was defective, and that once cut off from the world, the city would have no means of communication. Of course the pretense that messages are daily received is bravely kept up; but it is at least probable that this is only a pretense. At any rate, if the headquarters staff and one or two ministers really do know the actual state of affairs in Adrinople, they have contrived to keep that knowledge to themselves with a degree of secrecy unheard of in Turkey.

Of Europeans here, even among the oldest and best informed residents, there are hardly to be found two whose opinions as to how long the town can hold out agree. Some know, with a very positive knowledge, that Adrinople was the one spot in Turkey on which military funds were properly expended. They declare that, however ungod the army may be, the defenses of Adrinople are worthy of the strongest military power in Europe; that the town is amply supplied with stores and ammunition, and can hold out for months. Others are equally certain that the garrison is inadequate and must have been on short rations ever since the beginning of December, and that it cannot possibly have enough ammunition to feed the big guns on the forts, which are the key to the defenses.

The importance of Adrinople dwarfs all else here. We have almost ceased to expect an attack on the Tebalidja lines. Turkish scouts reconnoitering the positions held by the Bulgars at the time of the signing of the armistice report that the enemy, having burnt Izzeden-keul and one or two villages which they formerly occupied, have withdrawn even further north. Evidently they are concentrating their whole force against Adrinople. As for such fighting as may take place in the Gallipoli peninsula, no one considers it likely to affect the ultimate issue. It is upon Adrinople that everything depends.

Europeans here are wondering rather uneasily how the Constantinople populace will take the news of the fall of Adrinople when that news arrives. Hitherto the apathy of the people of this town has been astonishing. No one could possibly infer from the conduct of the people in the streets that their country is at war, that their politicians are fighting among themselves, and that the enemy is less than thirty miles from the city.

Interest in the affairs of the nation seems to be confined exclusively to the governing classes and to European residents. This is not simply due to the ignorance of the masses. There must have been in England at the time of the coming of the Armistice as great a proportion of illiterate people as there are in Constantinople today. Yet unless our historians have lied wonderfully well, Drake's exploits rang through England; the coming of the Spanish galleons was discussed in every alehouse and hedge tavern; and the unlettered mob were as keenly alive to the nation as was Queen Bess herself.

The means of disseminating news in Elizabethan England were infinitely sadder than they are in modern Constantinople; for though the bulk of the people may be unable to read for themselves there is no lack of Turkish, Greek and Armenian newspapers, which are read aloud in the cafes by the one or two educated persons who, in the East are always to be found in any gathering.

No it is not ignorance which prevents the Turkish people from manifesting any interest in the fate of their country. The desert Arab is just as illiterate as the average Turkish peasant. Yet barely a year ago Tripoli, I saw an army of men whose patriotic enthusiasm had sent against the Italians from every corner of north Africa. The Italian war was discussed by hooded desert statesmen from the western Sahara to the Yemen. Camel drivers, shepherds, caravan riders from as far away as Darfur and Wadai were as keenly interested in the fate of Tripoli as though it lay three hours' ride from their tents, instead of three months' march away.

NOTED FARMER WAS A BANDIT

The Last Man in District to be Suspected of Crime Was Criminal

Paris, France.—After being terrorized for five years by a mysterious bandit, the inhabitants of a district near Grasse are able to breathe freely again. The bandit has been captured at last. His name is Paul Chiapali, and he is a farmer, aged 25 and the very last man the people would have suspected.

The crimes with which he is charged number at least seventy. The series began with fires at farms and private houses, and later on other places were ransacked and horses and cattle were killed.

At night people were fired at and some were seriously injured. The criminal always left notes in the places he ransacked, and in spite of the utmost vigilance on the part of sixty special police he has only just been captured. Three detectives from Paris identified the handwriting left behind as that of the farmer Chiapali. He has confessed.

Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms without any inconvenience to the child, and so effectively that they pass from the body unperceived. They are not ejected in their entirety, but are ground up and pass away through the bowels with the excreta. They thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels and leave them in a condition not favorable to worms, and there will be no revival of the pests.

HOW TO OBTAIN GOOD DIGESTION

The Stomach Must be Toned and Strengthened through the Blood.

The victim of indigestion who wants to eat a good meal, and he will suffer if he eats one, finds poor consolation in picking and choosing a diet. As a matter of fact you cannot get relief by cutting down your diet to a starvation basis. The stomach must be strengthened until you can eat good nourishing food. The only way to strengthen the stomach is to enrich the blood and thus tone up the nerves that control it. The only way to enrich the blood, and tone up the nerves and give strength to the stomach, is to take a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in Indigestion.

Miss Lottie Carr, of Lequille, N.S., says: "For several years I have been a great sufferer from chronic indigestion. At times I almost loathed food, and no matter how hungry, I found it to eat even lightly was followed by great distress and often nausea. I tried many so-called cures, but did not get more than temporary relief, and naturally I was going down both in health and strength, and was greatly discouraged. While in this deplorable condition I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I doubted that they would cure me after so many other medicines had failed, but as I wanted health and the Pills were highly recommended I decided to try them. I am thankful now that I did so, for after taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for five or six weeks every vestige of the trouble had left me, and I was again blessed with the best of health. From my own experience I believe there is no case of indigestion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not cure, if given a fair trial."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOME SECRETARY GUILTY OF CRIME

Had no Right to Disregard Magistrate's Warrant by Releasing New Firebug

London.—Mr. McKenna's troubles with the suffragettes are two-edged, for now it is suggested that the home secretary was guilty of a serious crime in ordering the release of the suffragette, Lillian Lenton, who was arrested for the Kew Gardens outrage. A person who knowingly assists a prisoner to escape is liable to a sentence of seven years' penal servitude, and it is pointed out that McKenna's action was a breach of a justice's warrant, which even cabinet ministers must respect.

Thoughtlessness

They say the world is round and yet I often think it square. So many little hurts we get From corners here and there. But one sad truth in life I've found While journeying east and west The only folks we really wound Are those we love the best.

We flatter those we scarcely know We please the fleeting guest, And deal full many a thoughtless blow To those we love the best.

Why Did He?

Daughter of the House—Is it right what mother says—that you are a self-made man?

Visitor—Yes, my dear. But what makes you ask?

Daughter of the House—I was only wondering what made you give yourself such a funny face.

Wedding At Namaka

The home of Mr. E. F. Wheeler, four miles north of Namaka, was the scene of a very happy event at high noon on Wednesday, March 12 when his youngest daughter, Bonnie Cora, was united in matrimony to Mr. Elmer Litz, of Gleichen, by Rev. H. L. Dougan of Gleichen, in the presence of a few near friends and relatives. The bride looked charming in a gown of champagne mesaline silk, trimmed in hand embroidery, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister Nellie, who was gowned in China silk, trimmed in brown, while her sister Mary, similarly gowned, played the wedding march. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Herman P. Proctor, of Strathmore. After the ceremony all sat down to a sumptuous dinner. The esteem in which the bride was held was testified to by many beautiful and costly presents. The young couple left on the evening train for Calgary, there to spend their honeymoon, after which they will return to their home one mile east of Hamner Hill. The CALL joins their many friends in wishing them a long and happy married life.

"Busy Store" Announcement

J. A. RAMSAY

J. A. RAMSAY takes this opportunity of announcing through the CALL's columns that the Busy Store is now spreading away for business. Our policy will be to protect to the best of our ability an already well-established business and by every legitimate means to fish for more. Our intentions will always be to offer the best inducements—catering in the best possible manner to the demands of town and district. We do not expect it all but if hustling, proper treatment and the square deal count for anything we are going to have our share. We solicit the support of all the customers of the old firm and the new ones will find us hard to beat. Watch our CALL space every week when fresh announcements will appear.

Yours for business,

J. A. RAMSAY
